

To the FCC:

I write to urge the FCC not to grant further legal consolidation to an already monopolized industry. The current regulations on media ownership are barely adequate to prevent the total concentration of power in the hands of a very, very few groups that do not have the best interests of mankind at heart.

The press, largely defined, is an integral part of the structure of the United States and should not be further compromised by consolidation of ownership.

Again, I urge you to reject further consolidation of media ownership and to instead promote genuine competition by limiting ownership in the United States.

Cordially,
B.A. van der Wel
